

How to match your molding

Finding the best match to your existing wood molding

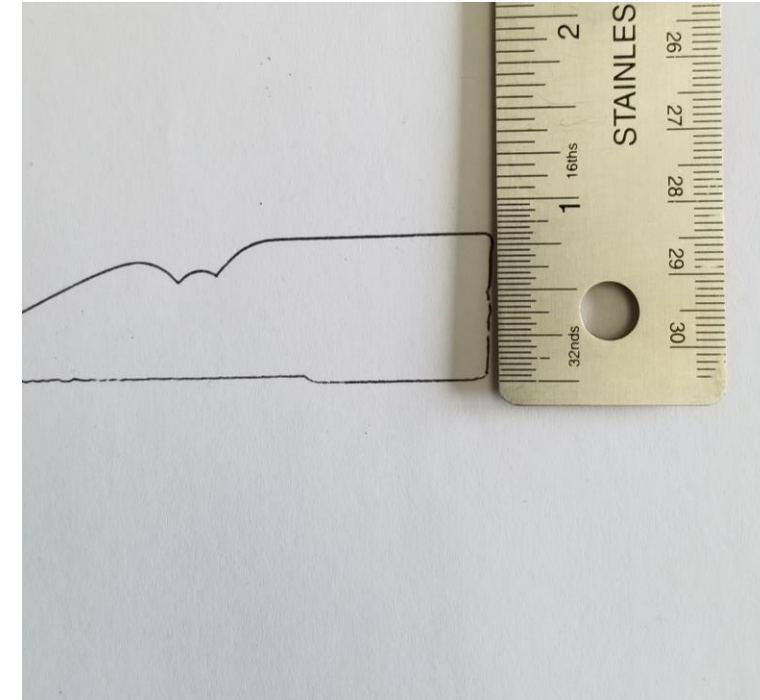

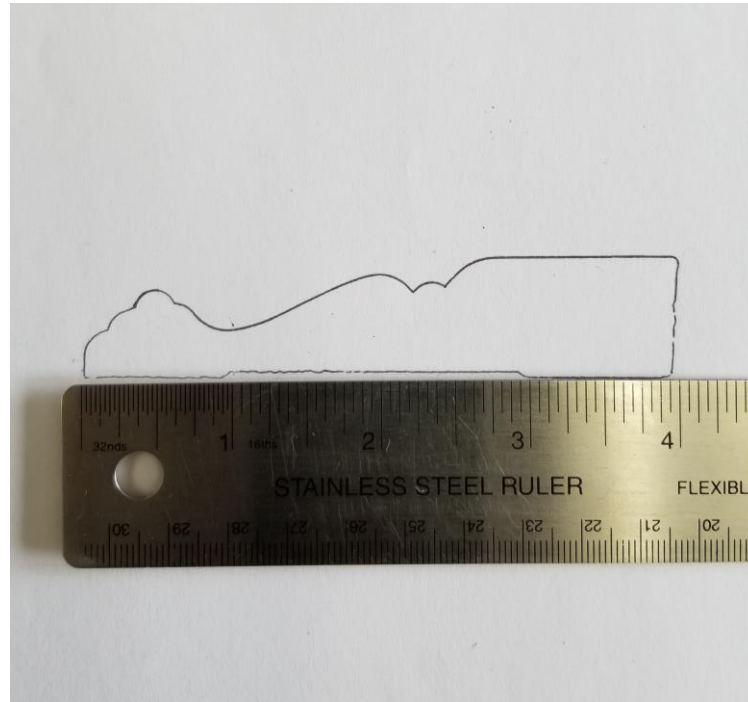

Step 1: Trace your wood molding...

- Using a clean white piece of paper (as transparent as possible), trace the profile of your molding using a dark color pen or pencil.

Step 2: Measure your molding

- Measure the width of your molding at the widest point
- Measure the thickness of the molding at the thickest point

Display (or print) Full-Size Drawing

- Click on any possible matches and select “Display Full-Size Drawing” to view the molding on the screen or select “Print Full-Size Drawing” for a printable Acrobat “PDF” drawing.

Check your match

- Place your molding tracing over the full-size drawing to check your match.

If the full-size drawing does not appear to be the correct size, check your settings.

- On Screen, follow the “Page Setup” instructions to properly scale your screen.
 - When printing a “PDF” (Adobe Acrobat) drawing, be sure the page scaling is set to “Full Size” and NOT “Shrink to fit”
- If the match is not close enough, close the window and select the next molding to compare.
 - If you’re ready to order, click the “Order” button and the wizard will walk you step by step through the ordering process.
